to dispossess such occupier, by or under the authority of this Act, if it shall appear to the said court that the party or parties against whom such complaint is made hath or have been, by himself or themselves, or by those under whom he or they claim title, in the quiet possession of the land or premises mentioned or referred to in any such information for one year before the date thereof; or that such party or parties hath or have any just claim, or apparent title, to such lands, or the occupation thereof.

Definition.

8. In the foregoing sections, when the word “proprietor”, or “occupier”, or either of them is used, it shall be held to include and be applicable to tenants, lessees, and procuracy attorneys, and agents, as well as to proprietors or occupiers.

Action by Executors, etc.

Executor may bring action for injury to real estate of deceased.

9. An action of trespass, or trespass on the case, as the case may be, may be maintained by the executors or administrators of any person deceased for any injury to the real estate of such person committed in his lifetime, for which an action might have been maintained by such person, so as such injury shall have been committed within six months before the death of such deceased person, and provided such action shall be brought within one year after the death of such person; and the damages, when recovered, shall be part of the personal estate of such person; and further, an action of trespass, or trespass on the case, as the case may be, may be maintained against the executors or administrators of any person deceased for any wrong committed by him in his lifetime to another, in respect of his property, real or personal, so as such injury shall have been committed within six months before such person’s death, and so as such action shall be brought within six months after such executors or administrators shall have taken upon themselves the administration of the estate and effects of such person; and the damages to be recovered in such action shall be payable in like order of administration as the simple contract debts of such person.

Action may be brought against executor for injury to property by testator.

Entering on Land for Purpose of Hunting, etc.

10. Any person who commits any trespass by entering upon the premises of any private residence or upon any land without leave of the proprietor, tenant or occupier for the purposes of hunting, shooting, or otherwise, shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction in a Resident Magistrate's Court to a fine not exceeding twenty thousand dollars.

PART II. Cattle Trespass

12. It shall be the duty of the proprietor of any stock to take proper and effective measures to prevent such stock from trespassing on to the land of other persons, and subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, such proprietor shall be responsible in damages in respect of any injury done by such stock trespassing on to the land of other persons:

Duty of proprietor of stock to prevent them
from trespassing.

Provided always that within forty-eight hours of the discovery of such injury the party aggrieved shall give notice of the nature thereof to the proprietor or person in charge of the stock causing the same, and shall thereafter allow him and his valuers free ingress to the land at all reasonable times for the purpose of inspecting the same; and shall, if required, point out the location of the damages complained of, and if, on the hearing of any action brought to recover any such damages as aforesaid, it shall appear that the plaintiff has failed to give such notice as aforesaid, or having failed to give such notice shall not account for such failure to the satisfaction of the court, or that the plaintiff has obstructed the defendant or his valuator in their inspection of the alleged damage, the plaintiff shall be non-suited.

As to trespass by animals being driven along a public road.

13. No person in occupation of any land abutting on a public road shall be entitled to recover any damages in respect of any trespass on such land by any stock while the same are being lawfully driven on such road, under proper care and control, unless such land is secured by a fence along such road sufficient to keep out ordinary stock of the class of animals committing the trespass.

The onus of showing that any stock were being so driven as aforesaid shall lie on the owner of the stock.

Evidence in actions for trespass by stock.

14. If in any action brought to recover any damages under this Act, the owner of the stock shall prove that his land is enclosed by good and sufficient fences, and that he has adopted all other reasonable and proper precautions for the confinement of his stock, and that they have nevertheless, through some cause or accident beyond his control and which he could not reasonably have provided against, escaped from his land, the party complaining shall not be entitled to recover any sum unless he can show that he has fenced his land with a fence sufficient to keep out ordinary tame cattle and horsekind.

Making or leaving openings to enable stock to trespass.

15. Any person who shall wilfully open or leave open any gate, or break down or injure any fence or other contrivance provided for the purpose of confining any stock, with intent to allow such stock to trespass off the land on which the same is confined, shall be liable, on conviction in a Resident Magistrate's Court, to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a period not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding twenty thousand dollars or three times the value of the damage done, whichever is the greater, and in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.
